MESSAGE FROM RABBI LISA DELSON

Introduction to Judaism

In January, we started a new session of Introduction to Judaism. I expected there to be 10-15 people who were interested in this type of learning. However, our registration has now been capped at 36 people! 36 people are taking on the task of deepening their Jewish knowledge, learning about the history and beliefs in Judaism, and/or joining their family members in this search for meaning. The first class was full of energy and hope as we started asking big questions together. At the end of the class I asked everyone to write their questions anonymously. Here are a few examples:

- What are some of the tension points between Reform Judaism and the more conservative/observant branches of Judaism?
- How involved in temple activities are non-Jewish spouses? Are there temple activities where it is frowned upon for non-Jewish partners to participate?
- If we, as Jewish people, had to move around so much, how have we been able to hold on to tradition so well?
- What is the purpose of a mezuzah and when is it proper to get one?
- What if you are never comfortable with saying the blessings that refer to God? Does that mean you can never fully perform any of the ritual actions?
- How can I place value in being Jewish and being of the community, without being triggered by past experiences in religion?
- What do you think the meaning of life that God created is?
- What is the best way to learn the melodies of the prayers for Shabbat services?

These questions are incredible. They reach to the various parts of Jewish practice and history. One of the main points from our first class was the idea that Judaism is not just a religion and not just an ethnicity but it is a combination of the two. We are a people tied to each other through our sacred texts, rituals, ethnicities, beliefs, and struggles. When we dig into our history, culture, and belief system(s), we are better able to answer these questions with more questions. Our ancient rabbis were, at once, interested in answering specific questions based on their worldview and experience as well as creating space for future generations to come to their own conclusions. As a people living in 2024, with all of our complexities of identities, we, too, can answer these questions based on how we live today with the guidance from the past and imagine how Jewish life will flourish in the future.

One of my favorite books to read and discuss with people choosing Judaism is “Why Be Jewish?” by Rabbi David J. Wolpe. In this short book he suggests that we can answer that question in three parts: 1) To Grow in Soul 2) To Join a People 3) To Seek God. It is my hope that throughout this course I will offer, not just the tachlis, details, but also reach to higher heights through asking and answering questions, listening to our inner voice, reaching toward God, and strengthening the Jewish people.

Religious School News

Tzedakah

Now that we are starting our second semester of religious school, and our students are settled in. We would like to turn our attention to our tzedakah program. We ask that each week our students bring a few coins to add to the tzedakah box. We would love if the students could earn this money by doing a good deed at home. Each class will be tasked with the job of choosing an organization that they feel strongly about to be the recipient of this years tzedakah collected from the temple's religious school. Each class will have the opportunity to present their organization during t'filah on February 11, 2024, and let us know why our tzedakah should go to that organization. Voting will take place on February 11 as well.

Just Because It's Shabbat

Join us at the temple on Friday, February 23, 2024, at 5:30PM "Just Because it's Shabbat". All religious school students will have a role in the service whether it be leading, singing, or presenting. Join us for a Shabbat Dinner following services where we will have a craft for everyone to complete. We are collaborating with The Tomer School in Akko, Israel. The Tomer School is part of the partnership, the goal of the craft is to increase a sense of unity and hope between children and the Jewish communities in the Diaspora and children in Israel.

Temple Tots

We hope to see you on Sunday, February 25 for our next session of temple tots. The theme of February's class is Five Tzedakah Pennies. Join Miss Alison at 9:30 in the tot room at the temple for a meaningful, fun, and interactive time in a Jewish environment. Activities will include stories, music, arts & crafts, and music. This is a great way to meet Temple families with children of the same age.

Purim Carnival

Save the date of March 17 at 10:30AM for the Community Purim Carnival. More details to follow.

Purim Spiel

Save the date for the "Aladdin" Purim Spiel. The performance date is Sunday, March 17 at 9:30AM. It will be a morning you don't want to miss.

Kids night out

Saturday, March 2 the Temple will be hosting a Kids Night Out from 5:00-8:00PM. See page 3 for more details.

Tot Shabbat

The Temple and PJ Library are coming together to host a Tot Shabbat on Saturday, March 9 at 10:30AM. Mark your calendar. More information coming soon.

Mazel Tou!

Max Alexander Gray will be called to the Torah as a Bar Mitzvah on February 3, 2024 at Temple Shomer Emunim. Max is the son of Justin and Eve Gray and brother of Dylan. Proud grandparents are Peter and Caryn Gray and Marianne and Ron Burnett (z"l). Max is a 7th grader at Liberty-Benton Middle School in Findlay where he plays the french horn and is a member of the school pep band. Max is a member of Findlay Boy Scout Troop 312, and in his free time enjoys playing baseball, reading, skateboarding, and spending time with family and friends. For his Mitzvah project, Max was a "Buddy" volunteer with the Findlay Miracle League, a non-profit organization that provides an opportunity for people with disabilities to experience baseball. Max helped players play games and it was a rewarding experience for him and his teammates. Max is excited to celebrate his Bar Mitzvah with his family, friends and the entire temple community!

Temple Concert Series

The next performance in our Recital Series featuring students from the BGSU College of Musical Arts will be Sunday, Feb. 25 at 3pm, as we welcome back our good friends, pianists Nano Beraia and Malik Halce, for their final concert at the Temple! They will bring a varied concert of solo piano music and collaborations with friends from BGSU. These are two fantastic performers who have given a lot to the Temple, and love our community—let's express our gratitude to them by packing the house for their last show!

Congregational Read about Israel

A Simple Guide to the Most Misunderstood Country on Earth by Noa Tishby

Israel has been a topic of conversation before and since October 7. Let's explore this book about Israeli history and politics and discuss. Rabbi Delson will lead two discussions, one Zoom only and one in-person only. Pick up the book wherever books are sold or from the library and let's discuss.

February 6 2pm, Zoom only, link will be shared with registration

February 7 7pm, in-person only

RSVP to Rabbi Delson rabbidelson@templese.com

LIBRARY NEWS

There is no Temple book club during the month of February. We encourage you to read ISRAEL A SIMPLE GUIDE to the most MISUNDERSTOOD COUNTRY on Earth by Noa Tishby and sign up for either the zoom or in person book discussions with Rabbi Delson.
